Assembly Decorum

We, the people of The Clark County Nevada Assemblies, hold these guidelines of Decorum for all Assemblies and Committee meetings; As adults capable of accomplishing our Mission in discussing the serious future of Clark County Nevadans and building The Clark County Nevada Assembly to align with our mission and proclaimed values, we, Clark County Nevadans', treat each other with respect.

All Members please announce name prior to making a comment or bringing any subject to the floor ; We will approach discussion with proper spirit and language to support the Prudent Man Standard; We, the people of The Clark County Nevada Assembly, cooperate with each other to achieve our ultimate goal, the reconstruction of our lawful government.

Breaking Decorum and Disciplinary Measures

The Clark County Nevada Assembly voted on procedures to maintain peace on The Assemblies.

More than 3 cited interruptions and/or malicious interference by any one individual of anyone else or disruption of business will be muted until a new subject is open for discussion. And vica versa. If an individual has the floor and abuses the members by unproductive rhetoric or disruptive behavior, a option to vote can be taken to end the floor time, or send it back to a committee, or motion to sustain, overrule or end the speaker's session. Upon a second cited interruptive/interference session, the offending participant will be relegated to entering the written chat only for the remainder of the meeting. Apologies asked for and accepted in equal force to the offense and within the meeting recorded time are allowed. Cited interruption disturbing the business and peace of the Assembly Meeting will not be tolerated and will be met with the following

Delaying or ending speech:

- 1) The Meeting runner will first mute the participant, or the speaker can ask to have interrupters muted after one warning.
- 2) The Meeting runner will ask or have offending party removed to a 'Breakout' Room or physical room for a discussion or apply a time out for a prudent duration. The Meeting runner may ask any elected official or Committee Chair to deal with the participant. Time Outs may apply after any warnings have been given. The only time when in time out they can speak is for voting.

Members that interrupt the business of TCCNVA or damage the reputation of TCCNVA or disturb the peace of its members will be referred to our Summoning Authority who we say is any Committee Chair, Appropriate Committee, Jural Assembly Chair or Justice, Chairman, Sheriff, Marshal At Arms, Continental Marshal, PKTF, or Militia. It is the desire of TCCNA to keep the peace.

Free Speech is defined as written, verbal, and energetic (mindful or mindless) expressions of Militia, and all Assembly Members are considered Militia. Militia are defined as adults (prudent protectors) living on the land and owning their property, which is also owning themselves-they are their own property created by The Creator. The created individual owns every thought creation, word creation, and deed creation they produce. Each living man and woman who has elected to adopt an enforceable fine schedule as part of their documented claim to The Law of The Land.

In deference and honor of time, it is understood that every participant will strive to make their public communication as succinct as is possible as they are able. “Beating a dead horse”, “Monday morning quarterbacking”, unnecessary repetition, filibustering alone or with a co- conspirator is frowned upon and will be called out and may result in a time out.

Time Outs are used for "drunk and disorderly" members that are actually causing disruption, shouting obscenities, or throwing punches, for people who consistently refuse to stay on topic, for people who "talk over" and disrespect other members, for people who deflect attention onto other issues well-beyond the current mission of the Assemblies--- which is simply to get the Four Pillars stood up and fully functional. What do I have to do? Strip naked and stand on my head? The only time that Time Outs are appropriate is when people are actually interfering with the Assembly's ability to get its work done. Time outs should be progressive -- three days, a week, a month, a year, with discussion in between, to tell the offending member what they are doing and why that is detrimental to what the organization is doing.
