Peacekeepers and Law Enforcement Reference Guide - 2025

American State Nationals and State Citizens Are Owed the Law of Peace

American State Citizens are born on one of the several States of the Union with a birthright political status as American State Nationals. Born as Nationals, they temporarily divest themselves of their sovereign status to serve as State Citizens, a publicly elected official in the State or County Assemblies of the American Government. Similar to this, U.S. Citizens and Municipal citizens of the United States who are also born as American State Nationals are, however, voted in as a corporate officer in the capacity of a federalized citizen in the British Territorial and Roman Municipal corporate governments. All of them, American State Citizens, U.S. Citizens and the municipal citizens of the United States reserve their birthright as American State Nationals to one day return to that sovereign status at such time when their service or employment contracts as citizens have been fulfilled, completed or revoked.

History

America has been under an Illegal Commercial Mercenary Occupation since President Abraham Lincoln issued Lieber Code 100 in 1863.<sup>1</sup> Lincoln put America under a perpetual State of Emergency in an act to usurp the governance of America in the aftermath of the "American Civil War,"<sup>2</sup> which was provably a mercenary conflict and not a declared war after all.

The Hereditary Head of State, James Clinton Belcher, ended that State of Emergency and restored the American Civil Government in 1998. He issued a Declaration of Flag and International Peace Proclamation raising the American Civil Peace Flag, Open Gate, in 2017, and retired our Title IV Military flag on the land and shores of America. All 50 States of the Union have been in session since October 1, 2020. Americans can now claim their birthright political status and are owed the Law of Peace.

Treaties and Constitutional Authority

Admiralty and Maritime Jurisdictions

- Treaty of Paris (1783): Constitution of the United States of America (1789)
- Treaty of Ghent and Treaty of Westminster: Constitution of the United States (1790)

Land and Soil Jurisdictions

- Declaration of Independence (1776)
- Treaty of Versailles: Constitution for the united States of America (1787)

Citizen vs. National

A Citizen is a man or woman who is serving as an elected official or as an employee for one of the governments that provide public services to the American people: the American Government, the British Territorial Government or the Roman Municipal Government.

A National is a man or woman who is born without obligation to serve in any government; however, has a duty to self-govern, to do no harm and to obey the Public Law.

Three Categories of Citizens in America

1. American State Citizens
2. British Territorial U.S. Citizens
3. Municipal citizens of the United States

Four Categories of Nationals in America

1. American State Nationals
2. United States Nationals
3. Foreign Nationals
4. American Nationals

Identification of American State Nationals and American State Citizens

Indicates Birthright Nationality on a State of the Union

Indicates a Living Man, not a corporate fiction person

Copyrighted Tradename indicates not representing any form of Trust

Recording Number is attached to a searchable public record database that verifies identity as a Foreign Sovereign – American State National

Indicates Government-Issued credentials card by a Land Jurisdiction State or Soil Jurisdiction County Assembly

Holder of this card is verified by the American Government under the Great Seal of The United States of America est. 1776

Jurisdictional Boundaries

When an American State National or State Citizen is encountered and if there is no corpus delicti or no crime suspected in progress, law enforcement agents are to release custody. Do not detain. Do not interrogate. If there is a corpus delicti or crime suspected, law enforcement agents are to contact the proper land or soil jurisdictional peacekeeping authority of that County to transfer jurisdictional enforcement powers, immediately.

LAW ENFORCEMENT vs PEACEKEEPING

LAW ENFORCEMENT (Current)

PEACEKEEPING (Proposed)

“Sovereign Citizen” Misidentification

- ✗ Myth: All paperwork filers are anti-government “sovereign citizens.”
- ✓ Truth:
- American State Nationals file paperwork to lawfully change their political status on the public record as prescribed under international law from a foreign citizen to an American.
  - American State Nationals are lawful, peaceful and under a foreign jurisdiction to the U.S. government.
  - American State Nationals are not U.S. Citizens; thus, cannot be “sovereign citizens.”
  - The term, “sovereign citizen,” by definition is an oxymoron leading to the miseducation of law enforcement officers.

Why Law Enforcement Agencies Must Learn This

- Misidentification of State Nationals as “sovereign citizens” constitutes dereliction of duty.
- Enforcement without jurisdiction is a breach of oath and trust.
- All law – including American Common Law, Admiralty and Maritime Law – requires proper due process and jurisdictional awareness.
- Knowledge restores peace and lawful boundaries between the lawful people and our federalized employees, the U.S. Citizens and municipal citizens of the United States.

All Government Administrations Are Required To:

- Create a new category in your databases that reads: Foreign Sovereigns – American State Nationals/State Citizens.
- Erect billboards in the courtyard that reads: “Correct Your Political Status” with a link to your local American State Assembly’s website. Post the same throughout all federal/state/county/city/village/township public buildings.
- Publish on your government websites and in your official news publications a Public Notice to “Correct Your Political Status” with an image of the official local American State Assembly’s seal that governs your location and a link to its website as shown here in the right margin.
- Raise our Civil Peace Flag, Open Gate, and lower our Title IV Military Flag, Old Glory, on and in all federal/state/county/city/village/township public buildings. The State of Emergency was ended by the Declaration of Flag on Oct 21, 2017<sup>1</sup> and International Peace Proclamation and Grand Peace Treaty<sup>2</sup> issued by the Hereditary Head of State for The United States of America, Unincorporated, James Clinton Belcher.
- Allocate space in every government building, federal/state/county/city/village/township, to include state capitol buildings, all courthouses, public service buildings, county sheriff offices and jails, etc., for use by the American Government. The allocated space is subject to the approval of the American Assembly governing that jurisdiction.
- Update all government publications with this statement: “Sovereign citizens are U.S. Citizens, not to be confused with American State Nationals and State Citizens.”

Key Terms to Understand the Peacekeepers and Law Enforcement Reference Guide

➤ Political Status
Political Status	The birthright nationality of Americans is based on the nation-state (Idahoan, Utahan, New Yorker, etc.) you are born on or have made your permanent domicile. Your American birthright dictates that your political status is an American State National. Americans can adopt other political statuses voluntarily by electing to be employed as a citizen of any government.
Sovereign in your own right	Private sovereignty every one born on American soil inherits from William Belcher, a sovereign in his right who was Head of State for our newly established international government, The United States of America, in 1776.
U.S. Citizen	The Definitive Treaty of Peace 1783 that ended the Revolutionary War described the "citizens" as "Inhabitants." A British subject is an inhabitant "residing" here, for the purpose of providing essential government services (Article IV): (a) those born in the District of Columbia, Guam, Puerto Rico or what we consider the "Territories and Possessions"; (b) federal civilian employees; (c)federal military personnel on active duty; (d) federal welfare recipients; (e) elected officers of the federal and federalized "state of state" corporations; (f) political asylum seekers; (g) African Americans who were never accorded their State National status.
citizen of the United States	A federal franchise corporation, and also, an employee of the Municipal United States corporation.
United States National	All U.S. Citizens are United States Nationals, but not all United States Nationals are U.S. Citizens. United States Nationals also include those born in American Samoa and Swains Island.
American State National	The Definitive Treaty of Peace 1783 that ended the Revolutionary War described American State Nationals as the free, sovereign, and independent people of the continental United States; also American state national.
American State Citizen	An American State National who divested himself of his sovereignty to serve as an elected officer in the American government.
American National	Refers to people born in American Samoa and Swains Island.
Foreign National	Citizens from other countries residing here in America.
Foreign Sovereign	The native-born people of one of the several States of America are free and independent sovereigns and foreign to the federal United States government.
Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act	Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, Sections 1605 and 1607 – foreign states are exempt from jurisdiction of U.S. Courts. The several States of the Union are the foreign states who are exempt from the franchised, United States jurisdiction.
Sovereign Citizen	Although “sovereign citizen” is an oxymoron, it is coined by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and defined as a U.S. Citizen who is identified as a domestic terrorist, violent extremist for claiming immunity from his/her U.S. government’s authority and control.
➤ Government Corporations
The United States	The United States, Unincorporated, established July 4, 1776 by The Unanimous Declaration of Independence.
The United States of America	The United States of America, Unincorporated, established September 9, 1776 by The Unanimous Declaration of Independence.
the United States	The Roman Municipal government subcontracted by the American Government to provide essential governmental services enumerated in the Constitution of the United States of 1790 who incorporated in 1855 as THE UNITED STATES, INCORPORATED.
the United States of America	The British Territorial U.S. government subcontracted by the American Government to provide essential governmental services enumerated in the Constitution of the United States of America of 1789 who incorporated in 1810 as THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, INCORPORATED.
States of States and STATES OF STATES	The State of State entities are federal franchise government subcontractors of the Territorial U.S. government or of the bankrupted municipal United States government who all are listed as incorporated businesses with respective DUNS number.
➤ Governmental Agreements
Compact	States of the Union are formed by social compact under a Declaration of sovereign people living thereon.
Constitution	A Constitution is a service contract to provide governmental services agreed to between American State Citizens as the employers, and their employees, the British Monarch, implementing the concessions agreed to under Treaty of Paris and Roman Papacy, under the Treaty of Westminster and Treaty of Ghent.
Law of the Land	The 3 Constitutions of 1787 and 1789, 1790 are the Law of the Land for the define the Bill of Rights that preserves and guarantees the American people will retain our republican form of government by delegated these powers to our subcontractors. These organic constitutions are not to be confused with the corporate constitutions that our Subcontractors drafted with their subcontractors that are servicing their contracts for them today in America.
Treaties	Treaties are the peace agreements that end wars declared and fought between countries not corporations
➤ Laws and Jurisdictions
Land jurisdictions	There are three land jurisdictions – land, land admiralty (sea), land maritime (air) – governed by the Law of the Land which are the Constitutions of the United States of America (sea), the Constitution of the United States (air) and the Public Law (land). The 50 governing body politics who create these laws are the 50 American State Assemblies.
Soil jurisdiction	The counties of each State govern the soil jurisdiction limited within their borders and create their own local laws. The American County Assemblies are the governing body politics.
Admiralty jurisdiction	Uniform Code of Military Justice – governs the sea jurisdiction known as admiralty law – governs admiralty sea jurisdiction under the UCMJ
Maritime jurisdiction	UCC – highest form of law governing the air jurisdiction known as contract law, maritime law governs the maritime air jurisdiction under the UCC - Highest form of law - contract law.

Public Law A1010124	Passed on March 1, 2024 outlawed the credit-theft monopoly of the central banks by use of federal reserve notes and foreclosed on all debt accrued by “the” United States and “the” United States of America government services corporations, franchises and 63 central banks used as chattel backing the spending criminal activities of these corporations and authorized the use of extra-territorial force to recoup these properties to return to the American people.
Public Law A1010224	Passed on March 1, 2024, no corporations including private government services corporations operating on our land and soil has immunity from prosecution to include what is codified as State immunity.
➤ Law Terms
Government	There are two governments in America but only one American government, The United States governing the national jurisdiction and The United States of America governing the international jurisdiction. The other government is a subcontracted government services provider, the British Territorial United States of America, Incorporated. All governments rule by the consent of the people who established them.
Emergency Powers	Emergency powers do not exist in the American government. They are the executive powers unilaterally imposed on the citizenry of the foreign, commercial United States corporations of the Territorial government.
Mercenary conflict	Lethal conflicts, euphemistically regarded as wars, waged between commercial corporations who hire trained soldiers as mercenaries to battle each other over securing of stolen properties to gain profit margins over the other.
Corpus delecti	Man or woman who alleges to be Injured by another man or woman.
➤ Government Officers
Head of State	Head of a Country. The Head of State for America is James Clinton Belcher by heritage born alive of William de Guilleroi, right-wise King: King of Powys: King of England: King of Normandy: King of Gaul.
President	Head of a corporation. We have no current (2025) President for the American Government corporations, The United States of America, Unincorporated and The United States, Unincorporated. The current President for the British Territorial government, the United States of America, Incorporated, is Donald J. Trump.
Law Enforcement Officer	Not to be confused with a police officer. These officers enforce the laws that govern their respective jurisdictions – land, air, sea and soil – upon the citizens or nationals who have consented by contract or by committing an injury traversed that jurisdiction.
Police Officer	Policy enforcers are known as police officers. They enforce the corporate policies, statutes and codes, ie. administrative law, enacted by an incorporated government services subcontractor to govern the federalized U.S. citizens or employees of their municipal corporation.
Peacekeeper	Peacekeeping officers (both elected and commissioned) outrank all corporate law enforcement officers on the land and soil of this country. An elected Sheriff of the American government serves the soil jurisdiction of their County. He outranks any elected or appointed corporate law enforcement officer – including any "County Sheriff" elected by U.S. Citizens.
Continental Marshals Service (CMS)	The land jurisdiction officers who are commissioned to interface with the US Marshals program and enforce indictments issued by Grand Juries addressing crimes of human trafficking, gun and drug running, interstate bank fraud, inland piracy, treaty violations, prevention of interstate scams and crimes across state borders and investigate postal crimes.
Peacekeeping Task Force (PKTF)	The American subcontractor responsible for networking together and educating the peacekeeping and corporate law enforcement forces of our country, including the Constitutional Sheriffs, the State Assembly Militias, and our directly Commissioned Continental Marshals as well as other functions according to their charter.

Sovereign Citizen Violent Extremism

Clearly states that enforcement applies to US citizens

(U) THREAT OVERVIEW

(U//FOUO) Sovereign citizens are US citizens who claim to have special knowledge or heritage that renders them immune from government authority and laws. Although the ideology itself is not illegal, sovereign citizen violent extremists express their anti-government or anti-authority violent extremist beliefs through the use or threat of force or violence, while sovereign citizen criminals use these beliefs to justify non-violent activities, such as fraud and theft. Sovereign citizen violent extremists or sovereign citizen criminals may attempt to frame legal encounters with government officials as negotiable commercial transactions, or claim legal immunity based on "common law rights of man."

(U) TARGETS and TACTICS

(U//FOUO) Targets: Primary targets of sovereign citizen violent extremists are law enforcement officers, with violence most likely to occur sporadically within the context of law enforcement encounters, including traffic stops.

(U//FOUO) Tactics: Sovereign citizen violent extremist tactics range from threats of violence, including threats to "arrest" officials; physical assaults; and, most significantly, lethal attacks with firearms. Significant sovereign citizen criminal tactics include the fraudulent filings of liens and frivolous lawsuits; financial fraud, including tax and mortgage fraud; and real estate or property theft, including squatting.

(U) INDICATORS

(U//FOUO) Indicators of sovereign citizen violent extremist ideology can include constitutionally protected conduct, and no single indicator should be used as the sole basis for a determination of sovereign citizen violent extremism or criminal activity. The following indicators of sovereign citizen violent extremist ideology might constitute a basis for reporting or law enforcement action when observed in combination with suspicious criminal or potentially violent activity:

- ◆ (U) Using fraudulent license plates, credentials, driver's licenses, identification cards, or badges from fictitious republics or indigenous groups
- ◆ (U) Making claims of sovereignty, often incorporating terms like "freeman," "traveler," "natural person," "flesh and blood," "artificial person," "strawman," or "right to road travel"
- ◆ (U) Using signatures that are distinguished by odd colons, dashes, brackets, or the copyright symbol ©, or are followed by "under duress," "without prejudice," "without recourse," "Threat, Duress, or Coercion" (TDC), "All Rights Reserved" (ARR), or a red thumb print
- ◆ (U) Threatening to "arrest" officials or use "common law courts"; making demands for oath of office or "bond"; and making claims of "kidnapping" by officials
- ◆ (U) Filing fraudulent liens or illegal lawsuits, frequently involving the fraudulent use of government seals or forms, sometimes accompanied by a notary signature

(U) NOTABLE ATTACKS or CRIMINAL ACTS

(U//FOUO) In April 2023, a sovereign citizen violent extremist was convicted on state charges for extortion. The sovereign citizen violent extremist had threatened to place a lien on the residence of a local police officer if his previously impounded vehicle was not returned to him, and he separately made online statements expressing willingness to file liens on individuals if they attempted to foreclose on his home.

(U) For additional information, please contact the Counterterrorism Analysis Section of the FBI Counterterrorism Division via email at FBI\_CTD\_CTAS@fbi.gov.

(U) Disclaimer: Domestic Violent Extremists (DVEs) employ several indicators, some of which may be criminal and others which may constitute the exercise of rights guaranteed by the US Constitution. Under FBI policy and federal law, no investigative activity may be based solely on First Amendment activity. The FBI does not investigate, collect, or maintain information on US persons solely for the purpose of monitoring activities protected by the First Amendment. All personnel should exercise sound judgment and discretion in evaluating the totality of circumstances surrounding any of these indicators in order to determine whether a law enforcement or intelligence response or activity is warranted.

It contains information that may be exempt from public release under the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552). Dissemination to the public, the media, or other personnel who do not have a need to know without prior approval of an authorized FBI official is prohibited. Precautions must be taken to ensure this information is controlled, stored, handled, transmitted, distributed, and disposed of in a manner that precludes unauthorized access.
